

Contents

Features

- 20 EXCLUSIVE UPDATE WITH PETER JACKSON
Tom Bombadil, favorite books, and the lure of history are just a few of the topics that the director discusses in this issue's update.
- 28 PRIDE GOETH BEFORE THE FALL
Actor John Noble offers his views on the root of Denethor's evil and talks about some scenes he shot that did not quite make the theatrical cut.
- 36 THE UGLY TRUTH ABOUT ORCS
Experienced "prosthetic" actor Jed Brophy provides an insider's look behind playing Orcs, including the hassles of the costumes and the technique he adopted for descending into the mindset of these savage creatures.
- 44 JEREMY BENNETT: THE ART BEHIND THE BLUE SCREEN
See how this artist's environmental drawings and paintings—including places like the wasted Isengard and the Falls of Rauros—inspired the visual effects in the films.
- 52 UNSUNG HEROES
Aside from swapping places with the main cast in scenes involving size differences between characters, scale doubles frequently had to perform risky stunts while overcoming limited vision and wild horses.

Departments

- 8 MAILBAGGINS
- 10 NEWS FROM MIDDLE-EARTH
The Lord of the Rings wins major accolades this awards season, including Oscars and Golden Globes...Film critics praise the final episode in overwhelming fashion...Reporter Ian Smith details his experience at The Return of the King's world premiere events in New Zealand and shares candid shots he captured of the cast and crew.
- 64 DOWN THE ADVENTURE PATH
With its state-of-the-art 3-D scanning technology, Gentle Giant Studios is the reason why The Lord of the Rings collectible toy line looks so much like the actual film characters.
- 68 FAN FOCUS
Read about Trilogy Tuesday, Toronto's "The Gathering," and other fan events surrounding the release of The Return of the King; meet a fan group based in Salt Lake City; and hear how Fan Club members are making a difference in their communities.
- 70 CATALOG
- 82 QUOTE WORTHY